Neapolis University

HEPHAESTUS Repository http://hephaestus.nup.ac.cy

School of Economic Sciences and Business Articles

2017-06

In-service Education: Educating Primary Teachers in Human Rights in Greece

Manesis, Nikolaos

The learning teacher magazine

http://hdl.handle.net/11728/11842

Downloaded from HEPHAESTUS Repository, Neapolis University institutional repository

HEPHAESTUS
Research Repository

Title:	In-service Education: Educating Primary Teachers in Human Rights in Greece
Year:	2017
Author:	Nikolaos Manesis
Abstract:	Since the early 1990s, the Greek Ministry of Education gradually introduced several innovative programmes such as Health Education. Health Education aims to pro□tect, improve and promote mental and physical health and social well-being of students, by developing their social skills and their critical thinking and by upgrad□ing their social and natural environment. The main objective of Health Education is to change students' attitudes and be□haviour, enhance their self-confidence as well as the ability to adopt positive life□styles. Active learning methods are used in these programmes such as role-play□ing, working in small groups, artistic crea□tion, etc. The themes of the programmes are distributed in nine (9) axes, one of which is "Interpersonal Relations - Mental Health".

Neapolis University
HEPHAESTUS Repository https://hephaestus.nup.ac.cy